LARGE MEMORIAL DAY PARADE IS TOO STRENUOUS FOR HIM

BRIGADE OF MARINES AND BLUE-JACKETS ADD TO THE LOCAL CELEBRATION OF DECORATION DAY—ONE OF THE LONGEST PROCESSION EVER SEEN HERE MARCHES TO NUUANU CEMETERY.

With about fourteen hundred blue jackets in the procession, as well as the National Guard, Honolulu has an unusually large celebration of Memorial day today. The day is being generally observed as a holiday. Government offices and courts are closed and a large number of business houses did not open, while others closed at noon.

The procession this afternoon is one of the biggest ever seen here. The men from the fleet led by the band of the cruiser New York, were ordered out from their battalions, with an ambulance. The organization of the brigade was as follows: Lt.-Commander A. C. Almy, U. S. N., Brigade Commander. Ensign J. T. Burwell, U. S. N., Brigade Adjutant. P. A. Surgeon W. L. Bell, U. S. N., Brigade Surgeon. Paymaster G. C. Schafer, U. S. N., Brigade Commissary. New York's Band. Field Music.

1st Battalion—Marines—Captain A. W. Catlin, U. S. M. C., Battalion Commander. A Company—Captain D. P. Hall, U. S. M. C., Commanding. B Company—First Lieutenant W. C. Harless, U. S. M. C., Commanding. 2nd Battalion—Bluejackets—Lieutenant A. H. Seales, U. S. N., Battalion Commander; Midshipman M. K. Metcalf, U. S. N., Adjutant. A Company from Marblehead—Lieut. P. E. Lewis, U. S. N., Commanding. B Company, from Bennington—Ensign N. K. Perry, U. S. N., Commanding. C Company, from Concord—Ensign C. P. Huff, U. S. N., Commanding.

2nd Battalion—Bluejackets—Lieutenant Commander R. E. Lopez, U. S. N., Battalion Commander; Midshipman C. E. Smith, U. S. N., Adjutant. A Company, from New York—Lieut. A. W. Hinds, U. S. N., Commanding. B Company, from New York—Ensign J. H. Walsh, U. S. N., Commanding. C Company, from New York—Lieut. C. S. Kempff, U. S. N., Commanding. Ambulance Corps—Assistant Surgeon E. M. Brown, U. S. N.

One hospital steward from the Bennington. One hospital apprentice each from the New York, Concord, Marblehead and Bennington. Four stretchers with two stretcher-bearers each from the New York, Concord, Marblehead and Bennington. Admiral Glass issued the following squadron special order, governing the plans for organization of the brigade: Squadron Special Order No. 16, U. S. Flagship New York, Honolulu H. T., May 27, 1904.

"The following details are established for the Brigade to be composed of the Naval Station marines, and the Marines and bluejackets of the Pacific Squadron, to parade on Decoration Day 1904.

"1. The Brigade organization is appended as a separate sheet.
"2. The uniform will be white unders and leggings for the marines, bluejackets and band; for officers white dress with leggings and without cane-ties, sword belt under the blouse.
"Canteens and woven belts will be worn by marines and bluejackets; canteens to be filled with coffee. Bluejackets will wear knife lanyards tucked into the belt on the left side.
"3. Each battalion will carry colors; the Buffalo will furnish colors for the marine battalion, the Marblehead for the 2nd battalion, and the New York for the 3rd battalion.

"4. Brigade and battalion commanders will each take with them from their own ships, one bluejacket bugler and one messenger.

"5. The ambulance corps will take position in rear of the column unless otherwise directed by the Brigade Commander, no other special details will be landed.

"6. Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Almy, U. S. N., Brigade Commander, is charged with all other matters connected with the participation of the Naval Brigade in the Decoration Day parade.

"HENRY GLASS, Rear Admiral U. S. Navy, Commander-in-Chief, Pacific Squadron."

The line of march was changed this morning, owing to street improvements interfering in some of the streets it was intended to follow. The procession will form at 2 o'clock and start on Beretania street at the drill shed and march thence to Emma street, along Emma to Vineyard, to Fort, to School street and then to Nuuanu and the cemetery. This cuts out some of the central streets which it was desired to march along, but obstructions make such a course necessary. The order of the parade is as follows:

POLICE
MARSHAL AND AIDES.
U. S. S. NEW YORK BAND.
U. S. ARTILLERY.
U. S. MARINE CORPS
SAILORS FROM THE FLEET.
TERRITORIAL BAND.
FIRST REGIMENT, N. G. H.
UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS.
SCHOOLS.
DE LONG POST, G. A. R.
CITIZENS.

The parade will form at 2 o'clock at Beretania, right resting on Emma. The line of march will be up Emma to Vineyard to Nuuanu, to the cemetery. The program at the cemetery will be as follows: Hymn by school children to be sung at the cemetery as the veterans march into the grounds. Music by the band. Ritual of the Post led by Post Commander C. H. Dickey.

Prayer by Chaplain W. L. Eaton. Recitation "What is Our Flag" Rich. and Mosman.

Song, "Our Flag" by School children. Reading of Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" by Lyle A. Dickey. Song, "The Holy City" by Edward Crabbe.

Address by Gen. A. S. Hartwell. Roll call of the dead by J. W. Francis, adjutant.

Decoration of graves by Robert Nelson officer of the day assisted by school children.

Benediction.
There are about fourteen graves in the Grand Army plot in Nuuanu, and these will be buried deep under flowers according to the ceremony of the day. There are other veterans' graves in other parts of the cemetery, which will also have a heavy covering of flowers when the exercises of the day are over.

The celebration is under the auspices of George D. De Long Post, G. A. R., and the members who are here will attend in a body. About twenty of the members of the post are here, and they will take Quinn's long carriage, with four horses. Flowers were left at Dietz' jewelry store this morning and will be taken out with the procession.

The National Guard orders were for the regiment to assemble at the drill headquarters at one o'clock today, and the formation began at that time. Field and staff officers reported mounted, with fatigue uniform, blue trousers and denim. Line officers wore white trousers and leggings and white gloves.

Stenographer Demands His Fees

EFFORTS TO REOPEN THE CASE OF DYER AND OTHERS AGAINST THE BRITISH SHIP IVANHOE ON A CLAIM THAT LIBELLE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR A TRANSCRIPT ORDERED BY JUDGE DOLE.

J. D. Avery, the stenographer of the United States District Court, filed a motion on Saturday afternoon to set aside the satisfaction of judgment in the case of W. B. Dyer and others against the British ship Ivanhoe, desiring to reopen the case for the purpose of collecting the amount due him as stenographer for writing a transcript of the evidence. Avery's motion is the first one of the kind here, and will serve to test the law as to responsibility of litigants in the federal court for the stenographer's fees. The writing of the transcript in the case was at the order of Judge Dole, and not at the order of either litigant, Judge Dole wanted the evidence written up for use in arriving at a decision, and about $150 worth of work was done. To accommodate the captain of the Ivanhoe, who wanted to leave, the judge handed down findings, assessing small damages against the ship. The amounts were paid and a satisfaction of judgment was filed by Holmes & Stanley, counsel for the libellee and intervening creditors. The payments did not include all the money due Avery and he claims that this should have been taxed as costs, while on the other hand it is claimed that the libellee is not responsible, not having asked that the work be done. J. J. Dunne and Humphreys & Crook appeared for libellants.
